Amlaki is the leading technology and business solutions company for the Real Estate industry locally and regionally. Amlaki has pioneered the concept of on-demand, web-based applications for real estate, where it created the first ever product in 2000 and has evolved its product and business to cover more exciting and relevant technologies. Our philosophy has a clear focus on respecting our customers' data and confidentiality, a fact that has been demonstrated over more than a decade of Amlaki operations. Amlaki offers real estate applications that support the sales and rental processes of leading property developers, property management companies, landlords, brokers, and regulatory bodies. In addition Amlaki specializes in complementary e- media solutions to support internet based marketing for leading real estate organisations. Today, with an exclusive focus on the real estate industry we have succeeded in building a stable and scalable platform of effective business solutions for companies of all sizes. Our community level partnerships include: Leading developersInternational franchise organizationsProperty management companiesGovernment regulatory initiatives
