Hypercoat Enterprises began its existence in 1983, initially as a trading division of Heli-Orient (Singapore) Pte Ltd. A divestment decision by the parent company resulted in the division being sold to its then Marketing Director. Thus in April 1985, the company was registered as an independent business entity. With a few distributorship agreements in hand, the business continued amidst great challenges for this fledgling company. The tenacity of our pioneer staff not only made the company survive the uncertainties but had also managed to grow it from strength to strength. Driven by optimism and the ambition to be a significant player in the field of aviation supply, Hypercoat embarked on setting up a buying office in California, USA. Established in 1988, Hansair Logistics, Inc. was initially set up to coordinate transactions with our vendors in the USA. Since then several more sales offices and warehouses have been set up to intensify our penetration in the aviation market. In addition, we have also ventured into maintenance services such aircraft repainting, refurbishing of aircraft interiors and repair of composite parts. Jointly, Hypercoat and Hansair now represent more than 30 vendors from USA and Europe, serving their interest worldwide through our sales offices in USA, Singapore, Germany, South Africa, India, Malaysia, United Arab Emirates and most recently China, Chile, Brazil and United Kingdom. From only eight employees in 1985, Hypercoat and Hansair have now close to 100 full-time employees' world-wide.
