It all started in Beirut when veteran cinematographer Robert TAMBA decided to establish one of the first advertising film production companies in the Middle East, VIP Films, led by this craftsman and filmmaker who proved to be a pioneer in the cinema industry, has always been one step ahead. Today, VIP Films, headed by Rafic & Paula Tamba, is present in Beirut, Dubai and Paris, and produces the most successful advertising films in the local and international agencies, not to mention that VIP Films produced most of the prestigious car commercials for the region. The Facts : VIP Films has created a lot of interest among directors who are looking for a collaboration with a production company that can suit their needs to make better films and to open up on a totally new market where the challenge of creativity still finds a lot of opportunities
