The Swiss-based Allseas Group S.A. is a global leader in offshore pipeline installation and subsea construction. The company employs over 2,000 people worldwide and operates a versatile fleet of six specialised pipelay and support vessels, designed and developed in-house. Founded in 1985, we have gained worldwide experience in all types of offshore and subsea construction projects. Allseas' approach is to support clients already in the conceptual design stage and offer its services for project management, engineering and procurement up to and including installation and commissioning. We do not restrict ourselves to available technology; we develop new techniques and applications wherever necessary. No technology can replace human judgment. Our people make a multitude of decisions in all disciplines every day, worldwide. Our performance as a company is influenced daily by the creativity and quality of that judgment. Dynamism, inventiveness, rapid progress and a no-nonsense approach are our distinguishing qualities. Through the development of an in-house know-how we develop new techniques and innovative solutions to meet the market's ever changing needs.

Every new concept starts with true imagination. A technical breakthrough can only be achieved if one is willing and daring to challenge all existing options, turning them upside down in the process and looking at them from a different perspective.

It challenges the ability to imagine the impossible – not asking "why?" but "why not?". It requires people with imagination and a can-do attitude, who believe that "if you can dream it, you can do it". We want people who share and believe in our vision of "no guts, no glory". We acknowledge that reputation, responsibility and integrity form the cornerstone of our existence, realising that our future is shaped by our performance and behaviour of today. This will determine our reputation for a long time to come. Therefore, we value long-term relationships with clients, employees and suppliers.
