Our Philosophy is based on the following principles: Be practical and provide transferable skills to the workforce Be convenient for the working professionals Build a community of learning where the student plays an integral part in the learning process Encourage diversity in faculty, students and teaching methods so that learning takes place not only from a strong curriculum but also exchange of ideas Foster personal development in a safe and supportive environment Employ practicing educators who bring with them a passion for learning, a desire to demonstrate how skills can be applied to real world and a thirst to keep updated.
